Christopher Columbus

Christopher Columbus was born in the 15th century in Genoa, Italy. He was an Italian explorer and navigator. Christopher was the eldest of the five children in the family. He liked travelling and ships and he started his trips by ship when he was 19. He didn't go to school, but taught himself astronomy and navigation. He also became fluent in Latin, Portuguese and Spanish. These languages were important for him. He visited Portugal and saw many merchants from different countries. Christopher decided to find a short way to those countries. He asked King John of Portugal for three ships and sailors, food and equipment. He also wanted to become admiral. But the King refused. Next time he asked King Ferdinand of Spain to give him all the necessary things for the trip. After some time he got everything he needed.
